XXXII YEAR

When you have your portrait taken you naturally want a GOOD one to ensure its permanency and artistic effect. But where also TIME can be taken to produce a picture, you can get a picture that will last for years.

The photographer takes his picture in a room where the light is just what it should be. He does not take his picture in a room where the light is too strong or too weak. He does not take his picture in a room where the light is too high or too low. He does not take his picture in a room where the light is too bright or too dim. He does not take his picture in a room where the light is too hot or too cold. He does not take his picture in a room where the light is too dry or too wet. He does not take his picture in a room where the light is too soft or too hard. He does not take his picture in a room where the light is too fast or too slow. He does not take his picture in a room where the light is too good or too bad. He does not take his picture in a room where the light is too perfect or too imperfect. THE NEW LAWN-TENNIS COURT.

Her Majesty's Charge d'Affaires, Mr. Arthur Herbert, took his farewell of the British public on Wednesday by inaugurating the lawn-tennis court in Calle Ayacucho in presence of some hundreds of ladies and gentlemen, among whom we noticed his successor, Mr. George Earl Welly, already so favourably known in Argentine and foreign circles, having been a member of this Legation some 16 years ago.

Not only was the new court more favourable than the weather on Wednesday, and the scene of action offered a very pretty coup d'oeil, enhanced as it was by so large a muster of the fair sex. We were glad also to observe among the members of the new club, the presence of the Argentine public, a proof that all bitterness had disappeared and been forgotten. It was a veritable "redemptive amoris," indicative of the most flattering auspices for a new enterprise. The site is admirably chosen, at the corner of Calle Ayacucho and Vicente Lopez, covering about half-an-acre, connected by tramway with all quarters of the city and suburbs.

The committee consists of Arthur Herbert president, C. R. Thursty vice-president, T. S. Rosillo hon. sec., J. Drysdale, Harris (treasurer), Bowden-Smith, Knox, Williamson, Mills and Wallace, to whom much credit is due for the success of the enterprise.

In reference to this accident and attendant circumstances, which have awakened so much interest, several fresh documents were published yesterday, among others the following letter, signed by several passengers of the La Plata:

Montevideo, June 28th, 1892.

We, the undersigned, passengers on board the French steamer La Plata, beg to call attention to the way in which we were treated by two large English steamers.

On the 24th inst. an explosion took place, injuring 15 persons, 5 of whom were mortally hurt, leaving our vessel in a state of complete derangement. The vessel was treated by two large English steamers.

articles and even letters like Mr. Rudyard Kipling's, it is the highest compliment to another or newspaper to quote them. So much so, that little papers send their reports to the Times for the purpose of being quoted, and on the other hand big journals will never quote from their rivals—they will pay them that compliment. Jealousy as well as avarice supports protection.

This is part indeed of a very large question. The only radical remedy in anarchy. Copyright, patents, trademarks and trade marks, are items in Protection—sins against the community in the interest of individuals.

"But says common sense without protection people will not write or invent." That is a mistake. Those who have it in them will invent in spite of themselves. Excepting in a few rare instances, not by any means the highest, in regard to the rights of the inventor, the existing order of things are not the writers and inventors but the "bosses." It is he and the prevailing system in which he is generated that corrupt talent, conceals art and conceals the artist's genius into "chevaliers d'industrie." Who is it that will suffer by Mr. Justice North's commanding abolition of "paste and scissors"? Perhaps a few proprietors of "bits of every description, but the young, the poor, the very millions, whose are entertained and instructed by a freedom of quotation that really neither injures the Times nor anyone. In some cases piracy does injure publisher and author. I only argue for freedom in the law as well as in literary pilfering.

THE AFFAIR OF THE LA PLATA.

June 29th.

Mr. Editor, You have published to-day a statement which you say Captain Spooner has authorised you to make, in the matter of the French mail steamer La Plata. According to this, about 9 p.m. on 24th inst. the La Plata, a steamer, five miles off, which sent up one rocket and shew one red light on the foremast head. These were the only signals the Clyde ship, lighted by electricity, and which, they continued her course.

The Diario of this afternoon contains the version of the affair as given by the Captain of the La Plata. He says that at 9 p.m. on 24th inst., he saw a light, lighted by electricity, and which, they continued her course.

Tucuman and has advised Government to allow the contractors to open it to public traffic. The whole line is now finished. The branches built by the State are of great importance, since they serve a third of the sugar factories of Tucuman. These factories have 50,000 tons of sugar ready for the railway, which has, moreover, received applications for 1000 wagons to transport sugar-cane. The Inspector-General attaches great importance to this railway, which connects the northern provinces with the ports of Santa Fe, the gauge being uniform.

We learn that the appointment of Assistant to the General Manager of the Central Argentine Railway has just been conferred on Mr. H. G. Calvert who is well-known to our railway readers as the late Assistant Manager of the Argentine Great Western and Transandinian railways.
